Management's discussion of fund performance

The fund's Class 1 shares gained 8.52% for the year ended December 31, 2025. That result compares with a 8.62% gain for the Bloomberg U.S. Corp High Yield 2% Issuer Capped Index. For information on returns for additional periods, including the fund lifetime, please refer to capitalgroup.com/AFIS-returns-1.

What factors influenced results

During the fund's fiscal year, the U.S. bond market posted strong returns. Corporate bond yields declined during the period but remained near their highest level in more than 15 years. The U.S. Federal Reserve cut its policy rate three times in response to labor market weakness and economic uncertainty, pushing short-term yields lower. Meanwhile, long-term yields remained elevated amid heavy issuance and a steepening yield curve.

Within the fund, holdings in technology, electric utilities and communications were particularly additive to results relative to the benchmark. Similarly, consumer cyclicals and real estate investment trusts (REITs) contributed positively to relative returns.

Conversely, the energy, consumer non-cyclicals and basic industry sectors had a negative impact on returns relative to the index. Additionally, the fund's exposure to cash and derivatives detracted from overall results.

How a hypothetical $10,000 investment has grown

Figures assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains.

Changes in and disagreements with accountants

On December 10, 2025, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP (“PwC”) was dismissed and Deloitte & Touche LLP was appointed as the fund’s independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2026 audit. The change in the fund’s independent registered public accounting firm was approved by the fund’s board of trustees, including a majority of the independent trustees, upon recommendation of the audit committee, as part of a broader effort to update board oversight and fund operations. At no point during the fund’s fiscal years ended December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2025 and the subsequent interim period through February 13, 2026, were there any disagreements between management and PwC on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure or auditing scope or procedure.
