Management's discussion of fund performance

The fund's Class 1 shares gained 4.15% for the year ended December 31, 2025. That result compares with a 4.46% gain for the Bloomberg Short-Term Government/Corporate Index. For information on returns for additional periods, including the fund lifetime, please refer to capitalgroup.com/AFIS-returns-1.

What factors influenced results

During the fund's fiscal year, the U.S. Federal Reserve lowered its policy rate three times to support growth amid weakening labor market conditions. Short-term yields continued to decline, reflecting shifting expectations around the Fed's rate-cut trajectory. Notably, the yield on the U.S. 3-month Treasury bill dropped to its lowest point in more than three years.

The fund invests primarily in very short-term fixed income instruments and adheres to higher credit quality standards in its investments. These are reflected in the fund's investments in commercial paper and other short-duration instruments.

How a hypothetical $10,000 investment has grown

Figures assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains.

Changes in and disagreements with accountants

On December 10, 2025, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP ("PwC") was dismissed and Deloitte & Touche LLP was appointed as the fund's independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2026 audit. The change in the fund's independent registered public accounting firm was approved by the fund's board of trustees, including a majority of the independent trustees, upon recommendation of the audit committee, as part of a broader effort to update board oversight and fund operations. At no point during the fund's fiscal years ended December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2025 and the subsequent interim period through February 13, 2026, were there any disagreements between management and PwC on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure or auditing scope or procedure.
