Management's discussion of fund performance

The fund's Class 1A shares gained 14.63% for the year ended December 31, 2025. That result compares with a 19.72% gain for the MSCI All Country World Small Cap Index. For information on returns for additional periods, including the fund lifetime, please refer to capitalgroup.com/AFIS-returns-1A.

What factors influenced results

Global equity markets delivered strong gains in 2025, overcoming trade tensions and geopolitical volatility. U.S. equities advanced on strong large cap technology growth, though lost momentum later in the year. Stocks in the U.K. and Japan benefited from accommodative monetary policies and fiscal stimulus measures. Emerging markets drove the rally, with strong returns from South Korea, Taiwan and China, while India remained relatively flat despite solid macroeconomic fundamentals.

Most sectors posted gains for the fund, with industrials, materials and information technology contributing the most. Returns from the financials and utilities sectors were also positive. Companies based in Japan, the U.S. and Canada made meaningful contributions to the portfolio.

Conversely, the consumer discretionary and health care sectors were significant detractors from overall results. On a country and region basis, holdings in the Netherlands and Hong Kong were among the most notable detractors.

Changes in and disagreements with accountants

On December 10, 2025, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP ("PwC") was dismissed and Deloitte & Touche LLP was appointed as the fund's independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2026 audit. The change in the fund's independent registered public accounting firm was approved by the fund's board of trustees, including a majority of the independent trustees, upon recommendation of the audit committee, as part of a broader effort to update board oversight and fund operations. At no point during the fund's fiscal years ended December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2025 and the subsequent interim period through February 13, 2026, were there any disagreements between management and PwC on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure or auditing scope or procedure.
