Save for a lifetime of learning

An education is one of the most significant investments you and your family will make. Whether saving for a child's K-12, a teenager's college education, your own continuing education or a career in retirement, your CollegeAmerica plan at work can help you succeed.

Open an account for anyone

CollegeAmerica is not just for college-bound children. Open an account for nieces, nephews, friends – or even yourself.

Let tax savings add up over time

Earnings in your CollegeAmerica account are free from federal and, in many cases, state taxes, provided they're used to pay a broad range of qualified educational expenses. This can help you accumulate more over the long term.

Simply choose an amount you can comfortably contribute

CollegeAmerica at work lets you open an account for as little as $25. As your circumstances change, you can adjust your contribution to grow your savings even faster and reach your education savings goals sooner.

If withdrawals from 529 plans are used for purposes other than qualified education expenses, the earnings will be subject to a 10% federal tax penalty in addition to federal and, if applicable, state income tax. States take different approaches to the income tax treatment of withdrawals. For example, withdrawals for K-12 expenses may not be exempt from state tax in certain states. Tax-advantaged treatment applies to savings used for qualified education expenses. State tax treatment varies. Tax deductions may be disallowed in the event of non-qualified withdrawals.

Investments are not FDIC-insured, nor are they deposits of or guaranteed by a bank or any other entity, so they may lose value.

Invest in a bright future

Why CollegeAmerica at work?

Convenience of automatic investing

You can easily invest on a regular basis through deductions from your personal bank account or payroll deductions (if available).

No up-front sales charge

Because you invest in Class 529-E shares offered only through an employer-sponsored plan, you don't have to pay an up-front sales charge. That way, more of your money goes toward pursuing your goals.

Common concerns about college savings plans

Your beneficiary doesn't need the money.

Transfer the account to another beneficiary. Eligible beneficiaries include the beneficiary's sibling, cousin, in-law or even yourself.

You're concerned about a young adult handling the account.

Rest assured that you, as the account owner, maintain control of the account.

A four-year college isn't in your beneficiary's plan.

Pay for tuition and related fees for trade and vocational schools, community colleges, theological seminaries, study abroad programs run through U.S. eligible schools and tuition for an elementary or secondary private or religious school (kindergarten through 12th grade) up to a maximum of $10,000 incurred during the taxable year per beneficiary. Also use a 529 to pay for fees, books, supplies and equipment required for certain apprenticeship programs.

Depending on your state of residence, there may be an in-state plan that provides state tax and other state benefits, such as financial aid, scholarship funds and protection from creditors, not available through CollegeAmerica. Before investing in any state's 529 plan, investors should consult a tax advisor. CollegeAmerica is distributed by Capital Client Group, Inc., and sold through unaffiliated intermediaries.

Get started today

It's easy to get started. The sooner you do, the longer your tax-advantaged savings can grow.

Just three steps, and you're on your way.

1

Ask your employer about getting a CollegeAmerica application and program description.

2

Fill out the application and select your investments. Visit our website or talk to your financial planner to determine the investments that are right for you.

3

Complete the application and return it to your employer. Check whether automatic payroll deductions are available.
