Assistance for the independent and transitioning registered investment advisor

Essential resources for RIAs

We understand what it means to be truly independent

You chose independence because you wanted a different type of relationship with your clients. Transitioning your practice to become a registered investment advisor opens new opportunities for you to help your clients pursue their investing goals – but we understand the move may come with many challenges.

At Capital Group, home of American Funds, we share your commitment to independence, objectivity and a long-term perspective. We are here to help make your transition to a new business model as smooth as possible.

Commitment of more than 20 years to the RIA channel

Recognizing that RIAs have unique needs, Capital Group launched Class F-1 shares in 2001, Class F-2 shares in 2008 and Class F-3 shares in 2017 and created a team of specialists devoted to supporting your business model. Consult your platform provider or Capital Group relationship manager for share class availability on specific platforms. Refer to page 3 for more detail.

A dedicated RIA team to answer your questions

- Committed service teams (refer to the map on page 2 for coverage).
- Help in transitioning to your new business model, including transferring clients' American Funds Class A or C shares to advisory Class F or Class R shares where appropriate (refer to page 3).
- Choose from the most appropriate solutions for your clients, including Class F-2 shares, during your transition.
- Dedicated back office support. Our RIA support line is (800) 421-5450.

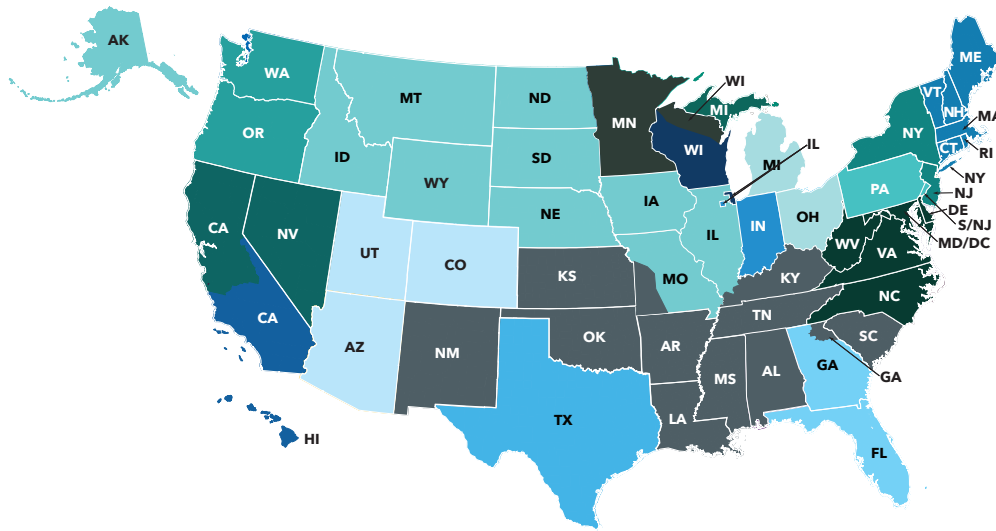

To learn more about our RIA solutions, contact your Capital Group relationship manager or visit capitalgroup.com/ria.

Investments are not FDIC-insured, nor are they deposits of or guaranteed by a bank or any other entity, so they may lose value.

Investors should carefully consider investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses. This and other important information is contained in the fund prospectuses, summary prospectuses and CollegeAmerica and ABLEAmerica Program Descriptions, which can be obtained from a financial professional and should be read carefully before investing. CollegeAmerica and ABLEAmerica are distributed by Capital Client Group, Inc. and sold through unaffiliated intermediaries.

Depending on your state of residence, there may be an in-state plan that provides state tax and other state benefits, such as financial aid, scholarship funds and protection from creditors, not available through CollegeAmerica or ABLEAmerica. Before investing in any state's 529 plan, investors should consult a tax advisor.

Advisory services offered through Capital Research and Management Company (CRMC) and its RIA affiliates. Capital Client Group, Inc., member FINRA.

Investment offerings that fit your needs as an RIA

You now have access to a world of resources to support you in your new business model, including:

- Investment solutions

- A wide variety of vehicles and investments, including mutual funds, separately managed accounts (SMAs), exchange-traded funds (ETFs), funds of funds, model portfolios, ABLE accounts, college savings and retirement plan solutions.
- Fixed income options, including core, domestic, global, high yield and municipal funds, and SMAs.
- Share classes appropriate for your advisory business model (Class F-2, F-3, R-5, R-5E, R-6 and 529-F-2 shares).

- Intellectual capital

- Timely, relevant market commentary and investment insights.
- Fund attribution reports and access to quarterly investment calls.

- Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG)

- Capital Group's investment approach evaluates material ESG risks and opportunities that we believe may affect the value of an investment.
- Incorporating material ESG information into research and analysis can, in our view, help improve long-term investment results for investors.

Transferring your clients' Class A shares to share classes for your RIA business model

Clients who wish to move their American Funds assets to your RIA practice may transfer their Class C or A shares to Class F shares.

- Custodian. You can access American Funds Class F and R shares through major custodians such as Charles Schwab, Fidelity, Pershing and many more. Class F-2 and 529-F-2 shares are available directly from Capital Group for registered investment advisors (RIAs).
- Conversion process. The conversion process is different for each custodian. For instructions on how to transfer your clients' shares, please contact your custodian representative or your Capital Group relationship manager or specialist (refer to page 2), who can guide you through the process.
- Class F-2 Direct-at-Fund program. Capital Group offers RIAs a direct-at-fund investment option for retail accounts with the Class F-2 and 529-F-2 shares, which have no 12b-1 fees. The program features an optional fee-debiting service – with a fee applied in basis points as designated by your firm. For eligibility information, visit: capitalgroup.com/f2-direct.
- Potential tax impact. Exchanging Class A shares for Class F shares can be a seamless event for clients. Transferring one share class to a different share class of the same fund may potentially be treated as a nonreportable event for tax purposes. You and your clients should check with a tax professional to learn whether an exchange would create a taxable event.

FAQs

What is Capital Group's relationship to American Funds?	Affiliates of The Capital Group Companies serve individual investors, financial intermediaries and institutions around the world through a broad range of products and services that includes American Funds, one of the largest mutual fund families in the U.S. by assets under management.
What is the difference between Class F-1, Class F-2 and Class F-3 shares?	Class F-1 shares, which were introduced in 2001, include a 12b-1 fee in the expense ratio. Class F-2 shares were launched in 2008 and have no 12b-1 fee.* Class F-3 shares, introduced in 2017, have no sales charge, 12b-1 fee or sub-transfer agency fees.
Which share classes are commonly used by RIAs in 401(k), 403(b) and other qualified retirement plans?	Classes R-5 and R-6 are often used and do not have 12b-1 fees.
Which share class do RIAs use within the CollegeAmerica® 529 and ABLEAmerica® savings plans?	Class 529-F-2, which does not charge a 12b-1 fee.
Where can I purchase Class F shares or other advisory shares?	Our Class F shares are available on every major custodian platform, including Fidelity, Matrix Capital Group, Pershing, Reliance Trust, Schwab, SEI, State Street, TD Ameritrade and many others. Class F-2 shares are now available direct-at-fund to registered investment advisors. One exception is our Class 529-F-2 shares, which are available only through the Pershing platform or directly from Capital Group. For a complete list of custodians, call your Capital Group relationship manager.
What are the tax implications of converting to Class F-1, F-2 or F-3 shares?	Converting Class A and C shares to Class F-1, F-2 or F-3 shares may potentially be treated as a nonreportable event for tax purposes. You and your clients should check with a tax professional to learn whether an exchange would create a taxable event.
Can Classes 529-A and 529-C shares be converted to Class 529-F shares?	Yes. Class 529-A shares purchased based on aggregated holdings of $1 million or more that are held for less than 18 months are subject to contingent deferred sales charges. 529-C shares that are held for less than one year are subject to contingent deferred sales charges.
Can I convert a retirement plan from commission to a fee-based structure?	Yes. To convert a retirement plan to a fee-based structure, please call your Capital Group relationship manager, who will guide you through the process.
Can I buy Class F shares in SEP and SIMPLE IRA plans?	Yes, Class F-2 shares are available for SEP and SIMPLE plans held at Capital Bank and Trust Company (CB&T), our custodian, when participants are in a fee-based program.
What Capital Group investment solutions are used by RIAs?	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• American Funds mutual funds. Investment professionals manage the portfolio, moving it from a more growth-oriented strategy to a more income-oriented focus as the target date gets closer. The target date is the year that corresponds roughly to the year in which an investor is assumed to retire and begin taking withdrawals. Investment professionals continue to manage each portfolio for approximately 30 years after it reaches its target date.

*12b-1 fees are used primarily to compensate brokerage firms for custodian services and, at full-service firms, for advisor fees. You can find expenses for individual funds on the Investments page on the Capital Group website at capitalgroup.com/advisor/investments/americanfunds.

Contact your Capital Group relationship manager for more information about SMA investment minimums, platform availability and fees.

¹ Generally, Class F-1 shares are available with no transaction fee, Class F-2 shares are available with a transaction fee and Class F-3 and 529-F-2 shares do not carry 12b-1 or sub-transfer agency fees. Individual platforms may vary. Class 529-F-1 shares are available only through the Pershing platform or directly from American Funds.

² Allocations may not achieve investment objectives. The portfolios' risks are related to the risks of the underlying funds as described herein, in proportion to their allocations.

³ The American Funds Retirement Income Portfolio Series allocations may not achieve investment objectives. The portfolios' risks are related to the risks of the underlying funds as described herein, in proportion to their allocations. Payments consisting of return of capital will result in a decrease in an investor's fund share balance. Higher rates of withdrawal and withdrawals during declining markets may result in a more rapid decrease in an investor's fund share balance. Persistent returns of capital could ultimately result in a zero account balance. Portfolios are managed, so holdings will change. Certain fixed income and/or cash and equivalents holdings may be held through mutual funds managed by the investment adviser or its affiliates that are not offered to the public. Visit capitalgroup.com for current allocations.

The expense ratios are as of each fund's prospectus available at the time of publication. For model portfolios, expense ratios include the weighted average expenses of the underlying funds.

We offer a range of share classes designed to meet the needs of retirement plan sponsors and participants. The different share classes incorporate varying levels of financial professional compensation and service provider payments. Because Class R-6 shares do not include any recordkeeping payments, expenses are lower and results are higher. Other share classes that include recordkeeping costs have higher expenses and lower results than Class R-6.

Model portfolios are provided to financial intermediaries who may or may not recommend them to clients. The portfolios consist of an allocation of funds for investors to consider and are not intended to be investment recommendations. The portfolios are asset allocations designed for individuals with different time horizons, investment objectives and risk profiles. Allocations may change and may not achieve investment objectives. If a cash allocation is not reflected in a model, the intermediary may choose to add one. Capital Group does not have investment discretion or authority over investment allocations in client accounts. Rebalancing approaches may differ depending on where the account is held. Investors should talk to their financial professional for information on other investment alternatives that may be available. In making investment decisions, investors should consider their other assets, income and investments.

Investing outside the United States involves risks, such as currency fluctuations, periods of illiquidity and price volatility. These risks may be heightened in connection with investments in developing countries (also applies to CGBL, CGCB, CGCP, CGDG, CGGO, CGGR, CGIE, CGMS, CGSD, CGUS and CGXU.) The return of principal for bond portfolios and for portfolios with significant underlying bond holdings is not guaranteed. Investments are subject to the same interest rate, inflation and credit risks associated with the underlying bond holdings (also applies to CGBL, CGCB, CGCP, CGMS, CGSM, CGMU and CGSD.) Investments in mortgage-related securities involve additional risks, such as prepayment risk (also applies to CGBL, CGCP, CGMS and CGSD.) Income from municipal bonds may be subject to state or local income taxes and/or the federal alternative minimum tax. Certain other income, as well as capital gain distributions, may be taxable (also applies to CGMU and CGSM.) The Tax-Exempt Bond Fund of America will not invest in bonds subject to the federal alternative minimum tax. State tax-exempt bond funds are more susceptible to factors adversely affecting issuers of its state's tax-exempt securities than a more widely diversified municipal bond fund. Lower rated bonds are subject to greater fluctuations in value and risk of loss of income and principal than higher rated bonds (also applies to CGBL, CGCP, CGMS, CGSM and CGMU.) The use of derivatives involves a variety of risks, which may be different from, or greater than, the risks associated with investing in traditional cash securities, such as stocks and bonds (also applies to CGBL, CGCB, CGCP, CGMS and CGSD.) As a nondiversified fund, American Funds Emerging Markets Bond Fund has the ability to invest a larger percentage of assets in the securities of a smaller number of issuers than a diversified fund. As a result, poor results by a single issuer could adversely affect fund results more than if the fund invested in a larger number of issuers. See the applicable prospectus for details (also applies to CGBL, CGCB, CGDG, CGGO, CGGR, CGIE, CGMS, CGSD and CGSM.) For American Funds Strategic Bond Fund, frequent and active trading of portfolio securities may occur, which may involve correspondingly greater transaction costs, adversely affecting the results. Interests in Capital Group's U.S. Government Securities portfolios are not guaranteed by the U.S. government. While not directly correlated to changes in interest rates, the values of inflation linked bonds generally fluctuate in response to changes in real interest rates and may experience greater losses than other debt securities with similar durations.

Capital Group exchange-traded funds (ETFs) are actively managed and do not seek to replicate a specific index. ETF shares are bought and sold through an exchange at the then current market price, not net asset value (NAV), and are not individually redeemed from the fund. Shares may trade at a premium or discount to their NAV when traded on an exchange. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. There can be no guarantee that an active market for ETFs will develop or be maintained, or that the ETF's listing will continue or remain unchanged.
